

Comment:
 While the Monthly PowerTrendSAR remains in sell mode, prices are getting close to a reversal. Further, the Weekly PowerTrendSAR is in buy mode (not shown here). The weekly relative performance to the S&P-500 is improving. Finally, the Daily PowerTrendSAR has just reversed to buy (prices also broke a minor horizontal resistance line). This is a slow mover and the target is not very aggressive. However, using a long-term target, the risk/reward seems to be favorable at this point.
